Message From the Governor

The following message received from the Governor was read and was filed with the Secretary of the Senate:

Austin, Texas,
May 13, 1965.

To the Senate, Fifty-ninth Legislature, Regular Session:

I disapprove and veto Senate Bill 160 for the following reasons:

In my message to the Legislature on January 27, 1965, I made the following statements:

"... proliferation of governing boards is retarding the development of a coordinated state system of higher education designed to achieve excellence . . ."

"To offer some hope for unity, some promise or order, some strides toward quality," I recommended that the management of two more colleges be placed under the Board of Regents for State Teachers Colleges. Senate Bill 160 removes two institutions from the jurisdiction of that Board.

In answer to a direct question during a recent press conference concerning the establishment of separate boards of regents for existing state-supported institutions, I referred to and reiterated these statements. In private conversations with members of the Legislature, I have emphasized my opposition to the creation of additional boards of regents.

Senate Bill 160 transfers the management of East Texas State University and West Texas State University from the Board of Regents for Texas State Teachers Colleges to a separate board of regents for each institution.

Section 7 of this bill provides that "the scope of work and activities" of these two universities "shall be . . . increased or diminished, altered or changed in any manner deemed by the new Governing Boards to be conducive to the betterment of the services offered." Although this language is taken from the statute authorizing a separate board of regents for North Texas State University, it may inadvertently exempt these two universities from co-ordination by the Texas Commission on Higher Education or its successor, the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. According to Attorney General's Opinion V-990 dated January 26, 1950, the latest expression of legislative will governs when two statutes are in conflict, regardless of their effective dates.

Accordingly, I herewith veto and return Senate Bill 160.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN CONNALLY,
Governor.

Senate Resolution 688

Senator Kennard offered the following resolution:

Whereas, The eyes of this Nation have been turned toward Fort Worth this year with its selection on April 8, 1965, as one of the eleven All-American Cities in the United States, an award made jointly by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine for worthy achievement by a city brought about by its citizens themselves; and

Whereas, The fact that Fort Worth was the largest of the cities so honored is a great tribute to the community spirit of its people, a pride in their city which is generally found only in smaller cities and towns where common goals bring closer relationships; and

Whereas, Fort Worth's success in implementing the Town Hall Meeting, a means of stimulating civic improvement and growth usually considered the particular province of communities of small population, was cited by Dr. George W. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion and chairman of the council of the National Municipal League, and by the publisher of Look, Vernon C. Myers, as one phase of Fort Worth's development which most impressed the judges; and

Whereas, Thousands of Fort Worth citizens worked together in action programs designed to make their city a better place to live: a $16.5 million bond issue was passed on April 25, 1964 to provide funds for a new downtown convention center and sports stadium, for which groundbreaking ceremonies will be inaugurated by a space-age signal bounced off the Telstar satellite; after years of effort, an apparent impasse in achieving toll-free use of the western end of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike was breached by an agreement between civic leaders and the toll road officials which made this addition to Fort Worth's excellent freeway system a boon to commuters; and

Whereas, Although these outstanding achievements—Town Hall, the convention center bond issue, and the opening of the Turnpike—weighed most heavily in gaining the All-American City award for Fort Worth, the City has other accomplishments worthy of justifiable pride and which certainly shared in influencing the judges in its favor: labor relations in Fort Worth are so harmonious that the Texas Legislature extolled the city's success in that area by resolution in 1963, and national attention was focused upon this important phase of industrial development after a 10-year statistical study of work stoppages in 69 of the nation's largest cities revealed that Fort Worth placed 63rd, with only 18,509 days lost each year due to strikes, and could boast of fewest hours lost of any city in the Southwest; in the area of race relations, Fort Worth again achieved outstanding success; and

Whereas, The big, old country town of Fort Worth has been succeeded by a modern, progressive city, but its Western flavor is still alive, and though it has colleges and universities, art centers, a symphony, opera, Casa Manana and other accoutrements of culture, it retains the friendliness of former days and the Southwestern Exposition and Stock Show still bring Throngs to Texas' All-America City for 1965; and

Whereas, The high-quality leadership and the new, positive attitude of Fort Worth citizens deserve the gratitude of all of Texas, and the Senate of the 59th Legislature wishes to make known its appreciation, to commend representatives of the forces in city and county which have earned Fort Worth its All-America City designation: Mayor Willard Barr and former Mayor Bayard Friedman; Members of the City Council; Chamber of Commerce President J. Lee Johnson III; Tarrant County Central Labor Council President Delbert Adams; Downtown Fort Worth Association President Lloyd Weaver and former President F. W. Laughbaum; former President Raymond Buck of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce; Fort Worth City Manager J. L. Brownlee and Assistant City Manager Gene Denton; Executive Director Lee Goodman of the Downtown Fort Worth Association; and, in the incorporated town of River Oaks, Mayor Jimmy Walker; now therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate of the State of Texas, That the City of Fort Worth, its leaders, officials and individual citizens are hereby congratulated for bringing to Fort Worth the high honor and national acclaim achieved through its selection as All-America City; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution, bearing the Seal of the Senate of Texas, be prepared for civic leaders and officials named as an expression of the appreciation of all Texans for the people of Fort Worth who have brought this signal honor to Texas.

The resolution was read and was adopted.

Whereas, On May 7, 1965, Joe Dave Scott, the Assistant News Director of KRLD News, Dallas, died at the age of 33; and

Whereas, Though a very young man, Joe Dave Scott was a dedicated veteran journalist who was respected by both fellow workers and competitors, and by city and state officials during his eight years with the news department of KRLD; and
